[Harbor Princess]
The gentle and reliable eldest sister. Extremely attached to her sisters.

[Airfield Princess]
The mischievous middle sister. Her nickname is Licorice*.

[Northern Princess]
The very energetic youngest sister.
A sort of stupid child.

*The fact that Airfield Princess led in the Fall 2015 event was called "Sherry Licorice 3 Hells!"
and the nickname stuck as a cute way of dealing with the trauma.

So I have no way

I'll lose.

I have to

The End

Afterword

Thank you very much for reading Miumike/Undersea Family

This makes the fifth book I've made about the Abyssals.
It's been one year now since I made my first one about Wo-class.

The year really flew by.

Thank you so much to the people who have followed me through them all.
I really can't thank you enough.

Now with the Ne-class, Aircraft Carrier Water Demon, and Destroyer Princess, the cute Abyssal family keeps growing bigger.
They're getting added faster than my artist's hand can keep up.
Someday I'd love to make a book that features all the Abyssal girls.
I want to continue drawing them in 2015.

Saying that, I also really love the individualistic Akitsu Maru.
Someday I want to draw a book about her too...
There's just too many things I want to draw!
I need to grow a few more arms like Shiva.

By the way, Castle Project started recently.
I haven't registered or played it at all,
but I'm interested as to what the enemies will be like. (laughs)
The same Kadokawa games is making it after all.

Now then, I haven't spoken at all about this time's book yet.

The title this time, [Miumike], is a sort of homage to a certain series, though they don't have much in common. (laughs)

Though they are about three sisters after all.

The moment I thought of it I knew I had to use it.

I really do love using these girls, and I definitely want to draw a continuation.

I'm unsure if the ship girls should stay in the base or come out.

I wonder what Hoppou was like before she became an Abyssal...

I can't help but wonder.

With that, I think the afterword this time is getting a bit too long.
I'm sorry it ended up like this.

Thank you very much.
